

BSc Veterinary Nursing degree programme

Information sheet

2023/24

Duration of the Degree

The BSc Veterinary Nursing degree programme takes four years. It also includes a minimum of 1,800 hours of placements. All of these will be in the first three years of the course. Placements are compulsory and may involve additional travel costs. Please see further information under "Fees and Costs".

Methods of Teaching

Teaching is delivered by a blend of lectures, seminars, group activities, recorded videos, practical sessions and placements. Student will be expected to undertake various self directed activities and additional study to complement the taught content. The amount of time to be spent in different types of learning can be accessed from the student handbook. Full details can be accessed from the student handbook. Students can be registered with the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons as a Registered Veterinary Nurse.

In the fourth year you will be required to complete a placement of 14 weeks.

The degree is awarded by the Royal Veterinary College (University of London) and the first 3 years are accredited by the RCVS to ensure it meets the requirements to enter the register held by the RCVS.

A copy of the RCVS Veterinary Nurse Registration Rules can be accessed at <https://www.rcvs.org.uk/document-library/veterinary-nurse-registration-rules-2017/>

Students undertaking the BSc/Veterinary Nursing degree programme are taught at the RVC's

UK students at an inflationary rate linked to the Retail Price Index (RPI). We therefore, advise all UK students considering study at the RVG to plan their finances based on promptly, fairly and transparently.
